The Ridgeland Fine Arts Festival presents artists and their work against the splendid setting of Renaissance at Colony Park (www.renaissanceatcolonypark.com), a regional lifestyle center renowned for its shopping, dining and entertainment experiences as well as for its graceful, Old-World architecture. The City of Ridgeland has grown from a quiet suburb of Jackson, the state capital, to a vibrant hub for the arts and a premier retail and dining venue

The Ridgeland Fine Arts Festival is the centerpiece of Ridgeland's signature festival, Art, Wine & Wheels (www.artwineandwheels.com), which also includes the Santé South Wine Festival, an international showcase of the world's premier wines and some of Mississippi's most succulent culinary delights and the Natchez Trace Century Ride, a recreational bicycle ride with 1,000 riders on the historic Natchez Trace.

The show was recently awarded the Southeast Tourism Society's Top 20 Events Champion award and recognized by AAA's "Southern Traveler" magazine as a Southern Travel Treasure. ^[L]_[SEP]

App Deadline: February 1st, 2023

The 66th Talbot Street Art Fair, Inc. invites you to submit your entry to the oldest, juried art fair in Central Indiana since 1956. Our past decades of fairs has established this show as a top quality, juried exhibition of fine arts and fine crafts. The fair is held in the picturesque Herron-Morton neighborhood. It has strong community support come rain or shine drawing upwards of 60,000 attendees. The Talbot Street Art Fair committee is an artist driven network whose mission is to continually improve and uphold the quality and creativity of its exhibitors.

*We listened to our artists and will continue to eliminate all side streets from the fair.

Artists can drive up to their booth to unload/load and set up the day before the event starting at 1:00pm on Friday. Due to the historic nature of the neighborhood, the narrow roads can limit access by extra large vehicles and long trailers. These artists may choose to dolly from a side street. Security is on premises from Friday to closing on Sunday.
